The Cumberland Valley Athletic Club

Proudly Presents

The 42nd Annual John F. Kennedy 50 Mile
"America's Ultramarathon"

"Twenty Years and Counting."

California's Teri Gerber en route to victory in the 1983 JFK 50 Mile, becoming the first woman to eclipse the seven hour barrier (6:56:12). While defending her title in 1984, Gerber lowered the women's record to 6:50:56, a mark that still stands.

Dear JFK 50 Mile "Family",

Welcome to the 42nd Annual JFK 50 Mile. Everyone who has ever attempted this historic and challenging event should be applauded, but I'd like to shed a special spotlight this year on the women of the JFK 50 Mile. It's been 36 years since Hagerstown's Donna Aycoth braved new waters to become the first woman to complete the JFK 50 Mile in 10:41:15. Donna, who represented the Buzz Sawyer guided Cumberland Valley Athletic Club during her competitive heyday, would eventually win the JFK 50 Mile six consecutive times and lower the women's course record to 8:26:07 in 1973.

Other multi-win lady legends would follow. New York's Sue Medaglia would string together five straight victories between 1977 and 1981, in the process dip the ladies record down to 7:41:13 --which to this day is still the JFK 50 Mile women's masters record. Local homegrown star Carolyn Showalter --out of Maugansville, Maryland-- was crowned "Queen" of the JFK 50 Mile on six different occasions (1985-89 and 1994). Current sensation Laura Nelson has claimed four titles (1991, 1992, 2000, 2001) and "still on top of her game" seeks number five this year.

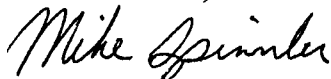

Arguably the greatest distaffer to ever grace the course also graces the cover of this year's program. In 1983 California's Teri Gerber became the first woman to crack the seven-hour barrier at the JFK 50 Mile with her 6:56:12 victory. She followed that barrier breaking performance with a sensational 6:50:56 defense in 1984, a women's event record that has stood for 20 years.

Setting standards at another spectrum of the event, last year New Jersey's Celeste Fondaco won her fourth consecutive ladies 60-and-over title. Already the 60-and-over age-group record holder (10:36:44 from 2002), she became the oldest woman --age 63 years young-- to ever successfully complete the JFK 50 Mile.

To all the courageous and remarkable women of the JFK 50 Mile, who continue to inspire everyone who witness their efforts, we salute you!

Good luck to one and all.

Best Wishes,

Mike Spinnler

JFK 50 Mile Competitor (1971-1990)

Mackey Wins 41st JFK 50 Mile; Third Time the Charm for Hunter

by E.P. Doyle

Dave Mackey: third-fastest JFK.

Boulder, Colorado resident Dave Mackey made “short work” of a field of nearly 1,000 to win the 41st JFK 50 Mile, America’s oldest and largest ultra. With 37 states, the District of Columbia and seven different nations represented, the reigning U.S. 50-km champion wasted little time in making his presence felt. Aggressively moving to the lead in the early mountain section of the course, he was the first through the 9.3-mile aid station along the Appalachian Trail and never relinquished his frontrunning position.

Ripping across the Appalachian Trail section of the course (the first 15.5 miles) in a lightning quick 1:51:31, the rookie JFK runner held a 90-second advantage over Canada’s 1999 JFK runner-up Clark Zealand as he moved on to the C&O Canal Towpath section of the course.

The 33-year-old, who just five weeks earlier had hacked four minutes off the course record at the Mountain Masochist 50 Mile in Lynchburg, Virginia, relentlessly pounded out the next 26.3 miles in just under two hours and 58 minutes. Stepping onto the macadam for the last 8.4 miles with the clock registering 4:50, Mackey’s victory was not in much danger, but Eric Clifton’s 5:46:22 “off the charts” course record from 1994 was.

Unfortunately for Mackey, temperatures topping 60 degrees F began to slow him ever so slightly. In the 43rd mile he slipped over seven minute-per-mile pace, and by 45, Clifton’s mark looked safe for one more year. Nonetheless, the steady-striding Mackey rolled across the Williamsport finish line with a massive 14-minute cushion in 5:55:30, equaling the time of the legendary Max White (a course record performance in 1973 that stood for nine years) as the number three performance in JFK 50 Mile history. Picking up the $500 winner’s check, the fast-moving Mackey was out of town and on a plane back to Boulder within five hours of his triumph.

An impressive list of chasers jostled all day long, with Louisville, Kentucky’s Eric Grossman maintaining the number two position on the last 8.4-mile road section, until he was caught by Ann Arbor, Michigan’s Zachariah Miller. The pair, who had raced each other before, made a verbal agreement to tie and crossed the finish line together, sharing second place in 6:10:02, thus earning $200 a piece.

The last two women’s winners—2001 victor Laura Nelson and defending champ Connie Gardner—were both attempting to double back after the previous weekend’s IAU World 100 Km in Taiwan. The travel and the duties of representing the U.S. internationally appeared to be a bit too much, as neither of the pair was able to mount a serious challenge to fast-rising star Bethany Hunter.

The 24-year-old Hunter—third and second in the last two JFKs—led from wire to wire to take the ladies’ crown in 7:20:53, her best time on the course and the 12th fastest distaff performance in JFK 50 Mile history. The Liberty University grad and Lynchburg, Virginia resident had a huge 33 minute, 33 second advantage over runner-up Gardner and earned $500 for her crowning moment. The gracious Gardner offered no excuses in accepting her $300 second place check.

Middletown, Maryland’s 47-year-old Barry Salisbury—a mother of five—shocked many of the ultra scene regulars by nailing down the bronze medal and it’s corresponding $100 in 7:57:08. Four-time champion Nelson fought gamely, but could salvage no better than tenth among the ladies in an uncharacteristic 8:36:37. In 2000 she won in 6:59:14 and is still only one of three women to have ever dipped under seven hours during the JFK’s 41-year history.

Masters titles went to Gardner (7:54:26) and JFK 50 Mile course and masters record holder—as well as four-time overall winner—Eric Clifton of Albuquerque, New Mexico, who finished seventh overall in 6:29:15. Highlighting other age-group action was a fourth consecutive women’s 60-and-over victory by Chatham, New Jersey’s Celeste Fondaco, in 10:51:43. Fondaco, 63, already the owner of the 60-and-over record at 10:36:44 from 2002, became the oldest woman to ever officially finish the JFK 50 Mile.

JFK 50 Mile race founder William “Buzz” Sawyer—a NCAA All American at North Carolina State in the early 1950s and member of the U.S. track and field national team in the late 1950s, and who directed the first 30 editions of this internationally-recognized race that honors the late John F. Kennedy—finished officially for the 15th time in 13:34:52, good for 806th place. The 75-year-old Sawyer—who tied for first in the JFK 50 Mile four times in the mid-1960s—still serves as the JFK 50 Mile’s statistician/record keeper and his total number of official finishes would undoubtedly be much higher than his already impressive 15 had he not unselfishly directed the event from 1971 until 1992. The 42nd Annual JFK 50 Mile is scheduled for November 20, 2004. For details on the JFK 50 Mile (past, present and future), visit www.jfk50mile.org

History along the Route of the JFK 50-Mile: from A to Z

A Boonsboro: Founded in 1792 by George and William Boone, cousins of frontiersman Daniel Boone, this town has been the starting point of the John F. Kennedy Memorial 50-Mile Hike/Run since its inception in 1963.

B Washington Monument: On July 4, 1827, the citizens of Boonsboro built a 12-ft.-high, crock-shaped stone monument on the Blue Rocks of South Mountain. It was the first structure built to honor our country's first president.

C The National Road: Originally called the "Bank Road" because it was funded by various banks along the way, today's Route 40A became part of the "National Road" when Congress approved funds in 1818 to extend this road from Cumberland, Maryland to Ohio, Indiana, and Illinois - the country's first federally-funded highway project.

D Old South Mountain Inn: The "Mountain House" here was once a tavern along the National Road. Across the road stands Dahloren Chapel, built in 1882 by Madeleine Vinton Dahlgren for Catholic worship services.

E Battle of South Mountain: On September 14, 1862, about 10,000 Confederate soldiers under Gen. Robert E. Lee defended three mountain passes - Turriers Gap (where today's Route 40A crosses), Fox Gap (where today's Reno Monument Road crosses), and Cramptons Gap (at today's Gathland State Park) - against the advance units of Gen. George B. McClellan's 80,000-man army. Lee had split his 40,000-man army to capture Union troops in Harpers Ferry (see "Battle of Maryland Heights," M on next page), and defended South Mountain here to buy time for his divided army to rejoin him near Sharpsburg where the Battle of Antietam was fought on September 17, 1862.

F Reno Monument: Just off Reno Monument Road at Fox Gap is a stone monument that marks where Maj. Gen. Jesse Reno was killed during the battle of South Mountain. After the Civil War, a Union veteran of this battle became a miner in Nevada and founded a town there that he named for his beloved General - Reno, Nevada.

G Gathland State Park: Scene of fierce fighting during the Battle of South Mountain in 1862, the Cramptons Gap area was bought by reporter George Alfred Townsend (pen name: Gath) in 1884. In 1896 Townsend organized the construction of the War Correspondents Arch here to commemorate correspondents and artists of the Civil War.

H Appalachian Trail: Completed in 1937, this 2,157-mile trail stretches from Mt. Katahdin, Maine to Springer Mountain, Georgia. Thirteen miles of the JFK-50 traverses this famous footpath; please be courteous to its hikers.

I Weverton: Today's tiny village is a vestige of a once-thriving industrial town founded by Casper Wever in the 1830s. Water from the Potomac River powered mills here for 50 years before floods and finances closed them down.

J B&O Railroad: Started in Baltimore on July 4, 1828, the B&O Railroad reached this area by 1834, and went all the way to Cumberland, Maryland in 1842. Today the tracks are part of the CSX Rail Transportation System.

K C&O Canal: Also started on July 4, 1828, the Chesapeake & Ohio Canal began in Washington, D.C. - the "race" was on for the best transportation link to the west. The C&O Canal also reached this area by 1834, but construction problems prevented it from reaching Cumberland until 1850. The C&O Canal ceased operations in 1924 and today is preserved as the 185-mile-long C&O Canal National Historical Park. Twenty-six miles of the JFK-50 Miler - a marathon length in itself - follows this park's towpath where mules once pulled canal boats.

L Harpers Ferry: Founded in 1733 as a ferry crossing over the Potomac River, Harpers Ferry became famous for its privately-owned and federally-funded munitions factories and arsenals from the 1790s through the 1850s that attracted John Brown's ill-fated raid in 1859 to gather arms for a slave rebellion. During the Civil War, Harpers Ferry's armories and arsenals were destroyed as the town changed hands 8 times between Union and Confederate forces. Today, Harpers Ferry National Historical Park preserves much of the historic town and the surrounding mountains - Bolivar Heights (WV), Maryland Heights (MD), Loudoun Heights (WV & VA), and Short Hill (VA).

M Battle of Maryland Heights: From September 10-12, 1862, three separate Confederate forces totaling 30,000 soldiers, marched from Frederick, Maryland to surround the Union garrison at Harpers Ferry. On September 13, a battle was fought on rock-strewn Maryland Heights (most of these hills were denuded by the charcoal industry before the Civil War). The Confederates won this battle - along with skirmishes on Loudoun Heights and near Bolivar Heights - and forced the 12,500-man Union army into Harpers Ferry under a relentless Confederate bombardment.

N Harpers Ferry Road: Note the road across from the canal here: On the night of September 14, 1862, about 1,500 Union cavalymen made a daring middle-of-the-night escape from a Confederate trap by dashing, their horses across a bridge and up this road to Sharpsburg. The next day, the remaining 11,000 Union soldiers surrendered - the largest U.S. troop surrender until WWII. On September 16, most of the Confederate troops marched up this road to rejoin Gen. Robert E. Lee outside Sharpsburg for what would be the bloodiest one-day battle in American history.

O Fort Duncan: Union troops built this fort and others on Maryland Heights in 1863 to protect Harpers Ferry.

P Potomac River: Draining much of the Mid-Atlantic Region, the Potomac River's headwaters start in Maryland, Pennsylvania, Virginia, and West Virginia. Geop Washington envisioned the Potomac as the Gateway to the West.

Q Antietam Aqueduct: Triple-arch stone aqueduct built in 1833 to carry the C&O Canal over Antietam Creek.

R Millers Sawmill: This quiet riverside community once bustled with milling activity. In mid-September 1862, Confederate Gen. Robert E. Lee stationed his Chief Engineer here to keep watch over the level of the Potomac River since Lee knew he may need to ford his army across the river here if the Battle of Antietam went against him.

S Packhorse Ford: Just upstream from Millers Sawmill is a "double V-shaped" ford (shallow crossing place) in the Potomac River. This ford has been used by American Indians, German and Scotch-Irish pioneers traveling from Pennsylvania to Virginia, and Lee's Army of Northern Virginia in their retreat from the Battle of Antietam.

T James Rumsev Monument: As you approach the Route 34 bridge (also called the James Rumsey Bridge), look across the Potomac River to Shepherdstown which was chartered as Mechlenburg in 1762. The tall monument visible in the town from the C&O Canal towpath is a monument to James Rumsey, who was George Washington's Chief Engineer for the Potowmack Canal Company that pre-dated the C&O Canal. Rumsey was also the first inventor of the steamboat. In 1787, Rumsey demonstrated his steamboat along the Potomac here before hundreds of cheering witnesses along the riverbanks - 20 years before Robert Fulton demonstrated his steamboat on the Hudson.

U Killiansburg Cave: On September 16-18, 1862, hundreds of Sharpburg citizens came here to seek refuge under these cliffs from the Battle of Antietam. The cave entrance is visible from the C&O Canal towpath.

V Snyders Landing: This riverside community was once a tie-up point for canal boat owners from Sharpsburg-1

W Taylors Landing: Community was first called Mercersburg, for the first president of the C&O Canal company.

X Dam #4: This 17 ft. high masonry dam was one of 7 built on the Potomac to provide water for the C&O Canal.

Y Downsville: Founded in 1852, this typical crossroads village has changed little over the past century.

Z Williamsport: The Williams brothers who founded this town in 1786 proposed to George Washington that this area would make a good location for our national capital before the Georgetown, Maryland site was selected in 1790. Williamsport was especially prosperous during the C&O Canal's heyday from the 1840s to the 1880s. Since 1980 Springfield Middle School here has been the finish line of the John F. Kennedy Memorial 50-Mile Hike/Run.
